ALL GRAD STUDENTS

Graduate School Academic and Career Support

The Graduate School is here to ensure that you have access to the resources and support you need to develop your skills, expand your knowledge, and prepare you for the next step of your professional journey.

Your academic health during COVID-19

This website contains suggestions for students during these trying times, whether it's related to self and family care, or research and career advancement.

Academic and Career Development Workshops

Numerous workshops are offered to graduate students including funding, job searches, writing cover letters, and even learning how to use various literature search databases.

Student Academic Success Services

Grad students get up to 16 coaching sessions throughout their time as a student. They also host workshops for graduate students - another round is coming up on academic stress (emotional response, skills, and strategies for tackling issues like procrastination, perfectionism, and imposter syndrome). Open to all graduate students at any stage of your academic program. Register for the workshops.

Disability Resource Center

Student Access teams can work with you to identify barriers and determine reasonable accommodations to reduce them.

Study Space Finder

Find a space in a library, classroom, or lounge on campus that meets your needs. Note possible changes or closures due to COVID-19 will be listed. Classrooms are available as study spaces during unscheduled times. You can view each classroom schedule by using the QR code on the classroom sign in the hallway.

HEALTH SCIENCES STUDENTS

Center for Health Interprofessional Programs \(CHIP\)

CHIP works with and supports a wide variety of interprofessional student groups. Each group focuses on a topic of interest across healthcare professions.

BeWell.umn.edu

BeWell is a new site committed to providing space, activities, and programming to support the cultivation of community and wellbeing in interprofessional health students at the University of Minnesota.

SPH STUDENTS

SPH Student Senate

Governing body for SPH - offers lots of social connections and hosts various events throughout the year. They also have a buddy program and peer networking appointments.

Luncheon with the Librarian

Shanda Hunt is SPH's librarian and hosts workshops and can be a resource for students navigating the libraries, research projects, etc. University Libraries also have a variety of resources available to all graduate students.

Career & Professional Development Center

The Career & Professional Development Center provides you with the tools and resources necessary to successfully manage your career beginning when you first enroll as a student and continuing as you become an established public health professional.
